SUBJECT: TOKYO MEDIA REACTION - U.S.-INDIA SUMMIT

¶1. LEAD STORIES: Top stories on Wednesday morning included a Yomiuri report claiming that a political organization linked to Prime Minister Hatoyama allegedly made "false statements" regarding political donations.

¶2. "U.S. and India Take Step toward Relationship of Strategic Cooperation" The conservative Sankei wrote from Washington (11/25): "President Obama held a meeting with Indian President Singh on Tuesday at the White House at which they discussed such issues as antiterrorism measures, environment, and energy. By holding the summit meeting with China in Beijing and inviting the Indian leader to the U.S., the U.S. launched its Asia diplomacy that is sensitive to the balance between the two major emerging powers. At the beginning of their meeting, the U.S. and Indian leaders stressed their common values, such as freedom and democratization, and announced their intention to pursue a 'broader and deeper strategic partnership.'... In the U.S., there is a widely accepted view that the President achieved only 'limited results' during his trip to China, as the visit was carried out under the leadership of China. President Obama apparently hopes to demonstrate concrete results from his meeting with the Indian leader in such areas as energy cooperation and limits on greenhouse gas emissions."
